Welcome to the 47th National Salers Sale, "Expand Your Genes." With the National Salers Sale in Oklahoma City, I automatically think of Will Rogers. One of his quotes that comes to mind is "Don't let yesterday use up too much of today." I'm sure many of us need that reminder to look forward and not dwell in the past. This year's sale gives us a good chance to look forward and expand our genetic base.

I am excited about this year's offering. We have cattle consigned from 7 states representing some of the best Salers genetics in the USA. You will have the opportunity to pick from four outstanding herds in their pick of the herd consignments as well as some outstanding herd bull prospects and females plus a flush from last year's National Champion Female.

Looking forward to seeing you at the sale January 9 at 2 p.m. at the Cattlemen's Congress. If you have any questions, contact me or Dean.
